

Contents

Foreword by Jorge Riechmann	ix
Preface: Winds of Change in Spanish Thinking about Animals	xxi
Acknowledgments	xxix
Part 1. Animals in Literature
Affection, Literature, and Animal Ideation José Manuel Marrero Henríquez	3
Antispeciesism and Environmentalism in the Spanish Fable: The Case of José Antonio Jáuregui's Juicio a los humanos Diana Villanueva-Romero	21
She Is Not Afraid of the Big Bad Wolf: Concha López Llamas's Loving Eye for Wolves Carmen Flys-Junquera	33
Part 2. Animal Ethics and Aesthetics
Animals as Ornaments: On the Aesthetic Instrumentalization of Animals Marta Tafalla	51
A Passionate Call for Murder: Dying and Suffering Animals in Spanish Film and Filmmaking Claudia Alonso-Recarte and Ignacio Ramos-Gay	67
Usurped Strength, Stolen Nature: The Literature on the Fighting Bull José Marchena Domínguez	85
Wear My Eyes : Driving Empathy through Artistic Creation Verónica Perales Blanco	101

Part 3. Huma/nimal Bodies and Violence
That Obscure Object of Desire: Body and Violence Alicia H. Puleo	115
Failed Arguments in Defense of Bullfighting Jesús Mosterín	129
Ortega y Gasset's Thoughts on Animals Lydia de Tienda	139
Part 4. The Fight against Speciesism
Animals in Spanish Law: Changing the Legal Paradigm to Consider Animals as Sentient Beings Nuria Menéndez de Llano	153
Defending Equality for Animals: The Antispeciesist Movement in Spain and the Spanish-Speaking World Estela Díaz and Oscar Horta	167
The Literature in Spanish on the Question of Speciesism: An Annotated Bibliography Daniel Dorado	185
Contributors	197
Index	199